Seminar Law, Democracy and Digital Sovereignty

Digital democracy is at risk? The latest developments have posed profound questions to policy and law makers. In the summer semester 2023 you will have the opportunity to learn more about the EU regulatory framework involved on the elements of digital sovereignty for individuals, organisations and governments.

The seminar has been adapted to happen 100% online with tasks and assessments on reading/writing basis and interaction through online meetings.

The course will be conducted by Lucas Lasota, PhD.

Content

The seminar is dedicated to the legal aspects of fundamental elements for digital democracy. It puts into perspective the concept of „Digital Sovereignty“ in Europe. Digital sovereignty is the ability and freedom states, organizations and citizens have to freely act and perform in the digital world. The course will provide an overview of the various areas of law covering the following topics: Data rights, intellectual property and digital technologies, net neutrality and digital human rights. .

Format

This is a 100% online course. You will work on written tasks and online meetings.
